The number of infants exposed in utero to omeprazole that had any malformation, low birth weight, low Apgar score, or hospitalization was similar to the number observed in this population.

What they do could in fact replace a lot of useless parking space and turn it into useful energy generating area which can be also used as a parking lot on Saturday afternoons.

It is also being argued now that one can orient his emotions or expand intellectual potentials as per his aspirations by regulating the neuro-hormonal secretions in a suitable manner...