There is consensus that the etiology of raised IOP is due to reduced aqueous outflow, rather than over-production of aqueous.

It will come eventually, forced by the simple reality of no longer having an economy.